Film scene template

Instructions

- In your group, find an idea for a Client-Facing Conversation film scene
  - The client can be internal or external

- For the background and characters, you may either use those from the Client Encounters film that we have been improvising, or create your own

- Capture the idea in two slides so that we can improvise from them at the Integration Workshop
  - A member of another group will play the character facing a difficulty – see next slide
  - A member of your group will play the other actor – see next slide
  - A member of your group will direct the scene

- Send the slides to me on or before Monday 9th May please

Scene :   \<Title\>

   \<Description\>

Roles :

   \<Character name - the person facing a difficulty\>

   \<Character name – brief description of the other actor's role\>

   Assistant Directors : everyone else

Scene :   <Title (copy from the preceding slide>

<Description (copy from the preceding slide)>

Dialog :

Brief comment on the context, if necessary

<character name>

Blah blah

<character name>

Blah blah

…

Example

Scene :   It's impossible!

After a series of meetings with C2, it is clear that they are interested in S2.

Alfie's excited about the project. They sent Francis an email and now have a call with them to discuss C2's requirements. These include certain items that were not previously foreseen.

Also, C2's schedule is more demanding than previously expected.

Roles :

Alfie:

Francis: Contact in Products & Services (Manager-Leader in Rest of Company)

Assistant Directors : everyone else

Scene :   It's impossible!

After a series of meetings with C2, it is clear that they are interested in S2.

Alfie's excited about the project. They sent Francis an email and now have a call with them to discuss C2's requirements. These include certain items that were not previously foreseen.

Also, C2's schedule is more demanding than previously expected.

Dialog :

Alfie

Hi Francis! How's things?

Francis

I was Ok, thanks, until I got your email ;-)   I'm afraid that you're asking for the impossible!

…